

GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS REGISTRATION FOR THE SYMPOSIUM

he organizers reserve the right to postpone the event, to modify the place where it takes place or the content of its program if circumstances beyond their control oblige them to do so.

Details of registration fees:

For the first day, the registration fees include: access to the conferences, to the mini-lounge, drink breaks, lunch* at noon. The content of the conferences will be in English. Access to the gala dinner* is reserved for people who have participated or who have registered for the first day.

* All known allergies must have been declared beforehand.

For the second day, the registration fees include: access to the conferences, to the mini-fair and drink breaks. The content of the conferences will be in French.

Payment :

An order form will be sent to you as well as a confirmation of registration.

The sums are in Euros and must be paid in Euros. VAT is not applicable, according to article 261-7-1 of the French General Tax Code

Payment methods offered:

ayment by credit card (CB, Visa, Mastercard or American Express): In accordance with our commitment to payment security, all online payments by bank or credit card are made via the "Pay-Pal" security system. which allows the encryption of your bank details during their transmission.

Payments by bank transfer or cheque must be received at least 15 days before the symposium, i.e. April 19, 2022 for registration to be effective. The purchase order number must be recalled.

Cancelation:

Cancellations are made exclusively in writing. Any registration canceled less than 1 month before the date of the event, i.e. from April 13, 2022 will be invoiced and will correspond to 10% of the registration price. For a cancellation 15 days before, i.e. from April 29, 2022, the registration fees remain due in full. However, participants may be replaced on request.

Changes related to a case of force majeure:

The symposium is offered exclusively face-to-face. In the event of force majeure preventing the meeting from being held (health crisis), an online version could be offered. The customer will need to download the Zoom app. He will receive the zoom link the day before the online symposium.

Disputes and responsibilities:

his contract is subject to French law. Autour du BPAN cannot be held responsible for the non-execution of the contract concluded in the event of force majeure as defined by the courts; in the event of fault of the Customer or of the unforeseeable and insurmountable fact of a third party to the contract.

The Customer is informed that he can resort to conventional mediation, with the Consumer Mediation Commission provided for in Article L534-7 of the Consumer Code or with existing sectoral mediation bodies. He may also resort to any alternative dispute resolution method in the event of a dispute.

Personal data :

Registration on the Site entails the processing of the Customer's personal data.

This processing of personal data is done in compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679 of April 27, 2016.

Furthermore, in accordance with the Data Protection Act of January 6, 1978, the Customer has, at any time, a right to query, access, rectify, modify and oppose all of its personal data by writing, by mail and providing proof of identity, to the following address: symposium@autourdubpan.fr

This personal data is necessary for the processing of his order.

Around the BPAN ensures an appropriate level of security proportional to the risks incurred as well as their probability, in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679 of April 27, 2016.

However, these measures do not in any way constitute a guarantee and do not commit the Association to an obligation of result concerning data security.